

TechAssure Association, Inc. is a U.S. 501(c)(6) trade association of independent insurance brokers who specialize in the technology, life sciences, and media industries. Each member firm has a division dedicated to working with clients that develop, sell or service technology-based products. The innovation of new products/services creates new types of risk that require intelligence, creativity and expert advice on risk management.

The beauty of a career in risk management is that a wide variety of college degrees can be used. Virtually all disciplines can have applicability. Managing risk is a process, and if you are a creative but disciplined thinker, it can be a rewarding, and lucrative, lifetime of learning.

TechAssure® will help review your skill sets, evaluate your thinking style, and help match you to the right member
